FEDERAL ELECTION #2

RADIO AND TELEVISION PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENTS

The CBC has refused its permission to air the NAC WOMEN VOTE! public service announcements for both radio and television, although the private broadcasters have given approval. We have issued a press release, are investigating launching a complaint with the CRTC. In the meantime, the PSA's have gone out to the private broadcasters, and a list is enclosed of the stations to which they have been sent. If you haven't seen them on T.V. or heard them on radio, contact your local station managers and request that the PSA's be used.

WOMEN VOTE! DAY - SATURDAY NOVEMBER 5

NAC regional representatives and member groups are organizing activities across the country for our national day of action during the federal election campaign. Enclosed is a list of confirmed activities to date, and contact numbers in each province for activities that are still in the planning stages. We hope you will use this day of action to discuss the issues for women in this election and to encourage women to vote.

MEDIA STRATEGIES

During this election it is very important to have a women's perspective on the issues in radio, TV and newspaper coverage. There are a number of things we can do to get our point of view across in the media:

- Monitor local newspapers, radio and television coverage of the election issues, and be ready to respond with letters to the editors and call in to phone-in shows.
- Write articles for the op ed or feature pages on Women Vote Day in your region.
- Publicize Women Vote Day activities and speak on the issues on radio and television programs.

THE NAC WOMEN'S POLL

While we are a little skeptical of the new polling "science" of elections, we have noted that polls consistently show there is a gender gap in this election both on the issues and on women's choice of parties. We are planning a NAC Women's Poll. Watch for further details.

COMMUNIQUE D'INTERET PUBLIC

Radio Canada a refusé d'accorder sa permission en ce qui concerne la diffusion des communiqués d'intérêt public du CCA, "FEMMES: ON VOTE!", pour la radio et la télévision bien que les réseaux privés aient donné leur accord. Nous avons envoyé un communiqué de presse et nous envisageons la possibilité de déposer une plainte devant le CRTC.

Entretemps, les communiqués ont été envoyés aux médias privés et vous trouverez en annexe une liste des stations auxquelles les communiqués ont été expédiés.

Si vous ne les avez pas vus à la télévision ou vous ne les avez pas entendus à la radio, veuillez communiquer avec les gérant-e-s de vos stations locales et demander qu'elles ou ils diffusent les communiqués.

LE SONDAGE DU CCA

Tout en se méfiant de la nouvelle "science" électorale des sondages, nous avons remarqué que les sondages démontrent qu'il y a un écart entre l'opinion des femmes et l'opinion des hommes dans cette élection à la fois au sujet des enjeux électoraux et du choix des partis politiques par les femmes. Nous planifions un sondage CCA. A surveiller pour plus de détails.

LA JOURNEE "FEMMES: ON VOTE!" - LE SAMEDI 5 NOVEMBRE

Les représentantes régionales ainsi que les groupes membres du CCA organisent des activités à travers le pays pour notre journée nationale d'action pendant la campagne électorale. Vous trouverez ci-inclus une liste d'activités confirmées à date et des numéros de contact dans chaque province pour les activités qui sont encore à l'étape de la planification. Nous espérons que vous utiliserez cette journée d'action pour discuter des enjeux électoraux et pour encourager les femmes à voter.

STRATEGIES - MEDIAS

Pendant cette période électorale il est très important d'avoir une perspective de femmes dans la couverture par la radio, la TV, et les journaux. Il y a plusieurs moyens que nous pouvons prendre pour transmettre notre point de vue aux medias:

- suivre la couverture des questions électorales par les journaux locaux, la radio et la télévision et être prêtes à répondre par des lettres aux rédacteurs ainsi que par les appels aux lignes ouvertes
- rédiger des articles à paraître sur les pages aux lecteurs/lectrices ou dans les cahiers spéciaux pour la journée "FEMMES: ON VOTE!"
- publiciser les activités de la journée "FEMMES: ON VOTE!" et intervenir sur les enjeux à la radio et à la télévision.

CBC REFUSES TO AIR NAC's "WOMEN VOTE!" PSA

October 18, 1988.

For Immediate Release

The National Action Committee on the Status of Women (NAC) today learned that the CBC has refused approval for NAC's non-partisan Charitable and Educational Trust to air a Public Service Announcement, WOMEN VOTE! which the Telecasters Committee of Canada has approved in both French and English for private broadcasters.

NAC's Trust produced a 30-second PSA for radio and television in both official languages as part of NAC's public awareness campaign during the federal election. The campaign and the PSA are based on the theme WOMEN VOTE!, which simply urges women to vote in this election, and to be aware of the election issues affecting them, such as free trade, reproductive rights, child care, and violence against women and children.

NAC requested and received guidelines from the CBC and the private broadcasters and produced their PSA in accordance with these guidelines.

In a letter to the NAC, the CBC said, "messages from groups or organizations which directly or indirectly advocate a point of view on an election issue are unacceptable. During the current Federal General election campaign only messages from registered political parties are accepted for broadcast on CBC facilities."

Lynn Kay, NAC's President, disputed this position.

"The PSA from our Charitable and Educational Trust did not advocate any point of view on the issues, nor did it endorse any political party.", she said. "Its only message is that women should get out and vote on election day. Does the CBC truly believe that encouraging citizens to vote is "unacceptable"?"

"This is particularly distressing coming on Person's Day, the 59th anniversary of the day Canadian women won the right to hold public office and have a voice in the political process. It is surely a responsibility of broadcasters to air announcements which have as their objective the exercise by Canadians of their most basic civic duty - the right to vote. How can the CBC say it is strengthening the political fabric of Canada if it declines to run announcements of this kind?"

on vote!"

---

18 octobre 1988

Le Comité canadien d'action sur le statut de la femme (CCA) a appris aujourd'hui que Radio-Canada a refusé d'autoriser la Fondation du Comité canadien d'action du CCA à diffuser un communiqué d'intérêt public "FEMMES: ON VOTE!" lequel a déjà été approuvé pour diffusion en anglais et en français sur les réseaux privés par le Comité des télédiffuseurs du Canada.

La Fondation du CCA a produit un communiqué d'intérêt public de 30 secondes pour la radio et la télévision, dans les deux langues officielles, comme éléments dans sa campagne de sensibilisation publique pendant l'élection fédérale. La campagne et son communiqué ont pour thème: "FEMMES: ON VOTE!" et encouragent tout simplement les femmes à voter à cette élection et à prendre conscience des questions électorales qui les concernent, telles la libre-échange, les services de garde, le libre-choix et la violence contre les femmes et les enfants.

Le CCA a demandé et a reçu des directives de Radio-Canada et du réseau privé de télévision et son communiqué d'intérêt public a été produit en respectant ces normes.

Dans une lettre adressée au CCA, Radio-Canada a dit que "les messages des groupes ou organismes qui directement ou indirectement, font la promotion d'un point de vue sur une question électorale, sont inacceptables. Durant la présente campagne électorale fédérale, seulement les messages des partis politiques enregistrés sont acceptés pour diffusion par Radio-Canada".

Lynn Kaye, la présidente du CCA, questionne cette prise de position.

"Le communiqué d'intérêt public de notre Fondation CCA n'a pas fait la promotion d'un point de vue sur les questions électorales et n'a endossé aucun parti politique", a-t-elle dit. "Son unique message est que les femmes doivent aller voter la journée des élections. Est-ce que Radio-Canada croit vraiment qu'encourager les citoyennes à voter est "inacceptable"?"

"Ceci est particulièrement désolant, surtout à l'occasion du 59e anniversaire du jour où les femmes du Canada ont gagné le droit de remplir des fonctions publiques et d'avoir une voix dans le processus politique. Il est sûrement du devoir des médias de diffuser des annonces qui ont comme objectifs l'exercice par les Canadiennes et Canadiens de leur devoir civique de base - le droit de vote. Comment Radio-Canada peut-elle prétendre renforcer la vie politique du Canada si elle refuse de diffuser de telles annonces publiques?"
