Press Gang is be

With our new Hamada 600 we can provide you with quality small press work. This means that up to a sheet size of 12" x 17" we can give you better photograph reproduction, better ink coverage on solids, and better register on two or more colours. We can also do paper plate printing on larger sheet sizes with ease.

better than ever!

With our Harris 125, which is now in running order, we can do large press work with improved speed and quality. This press prints on a sheet size of up to 19" x 25" and is suited for printing books, magazines, posters, newsletters and long runs.

And we can continue to provide you with the same services:

- We can print books, posters, pamphlets, forms, business cards, envelopes — most any printed project (except those on newsprint) varying from high-quality multi-colour jobs to instant print.
- We can help you plan your job from start to finish in the cheapest and fastest way possible.
- We provide estimates on request.
- We can help you with design, layout and typesetting.
- We offer a wide range of bindery services, including folding, cutting, collating, stitching, hole-punching and padding.
- We can give workshops on layout or other steps in the printing process.
- We offer the use of our bindery equipment to groups who want to save money by doing their own bindery.

Who We Are

Press Gang is a feminist print shop and publisher established in the early seventies. Our printing and publishing activities are carried out by two separate collectives which operate out of the same building. This brochure is designed to give you information about Press Gang Printers.

Press Gang Printers is a non-profit community-oriented press. We work collectively and usually employ 5 - 7 women. We operate a print shop because we think it is important for women to have access to the skills and equipment of the printing trade, and because we want to help create printed material which contributes to social change. Most of our customers are community groups and women's groups. We enjoy printing for these groups because we can take pride in the content as well as the quality of our work.
